JOHN WESLEY CONANT, PIONEER OF WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN

John Wesley Conant was born 2 March 1801 in Lebanon, Madison County, New York. He was a son of Timothy Conant who was born in Connecticut on 16 March 1775. Timothy moved to New York State where he married Mary Herrick. They had ten children of which John Wesley was the first son. John Wesley left home at age seventeen and settled in Orleans County, New York, where he married Alice VanPelt, a native of New Jersey. They had three children born in New York State: Jane, Mary, and Albert, who died young. Jane and Mary came to Michigan with their parents in 1833. John Wesley Conant purchased 80 acres of land in Section 8, Van Buren Township, Wayne County, near the village of Denton. The deed, dated 24 May 1833, is in the possession of the writer. Three more children were born to John Wesley and Alice Conant. They were John Stoughton, born 3 January 1837, Webster, and Nancy.

John Stoughton Conant was a veteran of the Civil War who fought at Gettysburg. He returned to Michigan and married Cynthia Lamkin of Monroe County. They had three children: Mary, Ellen and Eugene Wesley. Eugene married Ella Glass who was the granddaughter of Samuel Y. Denton, founder of the village of Denton. They had two children, Herbert (the writer) and Edith. Herbert married Olive Neubert who was from Minnesota. They have four children: John, living at home; Bruce, living in Juneau, Alaska; James, living in Sacramento, California; and Cynthia, living next door near Plymouth, Michigan. Bruce married Susan Brown who is from Oregon and they have two daughters, Tamara and Colleen. Cynthia married James Shake and teaches at Willow Run, Michigan.

MOSES HAYDEN, PIONEER OF YORK TOWNSHIP, WASHTENAW COUNTY

Moses Hayden was born on 19 March 1811 on the Hayden farm in Day, Saratoga County, New York. His parents were Moses and Molly (Boyd) Hayden. Moses probably arrived in Washtenaw County, Michigan in 1833. He was living in York Township when on 31 May 1835 he married Polly Johnson. In that year they bought more land and their 240 acre farm straddled York and Pittsfield Townships. Polly died in 1842.

In 1843 Moses married Polly's sister, Patty Maria Johnson. They had three children: Susannah, Alvah and Lester. By 1849 the family had moved to a farm at the corner of Denton and Ecorse roads in Wayne County. Moses died on 4 July 1873. Patty Maria died 25 April 1899.

Their youngest child, Lester Leroy Hayden, married Fannie Mendell in 1867. They had five children: Elmer, Florence, William, Harry and Lyndon Carl. The family moved to Ypsilanti in the 1870s.

William Charles Hayden married Frances Furlong in 1902. They had four children: Margaret, Wallace F., Josephine and Betty. Wallace F. married Dorothy Gallagher. They had four children: Mary, Wallace G., Deborah and Michael.

Today many descendants of Moses and Maria live in Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Saline, Birmingham, Wyandotte and other cities in southeast Michigan.

JAMES AND ELIZABETH TATE ALLEN, PIONEERS OF ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN

Born 8 September 1771 to James, Sr., and Margaret (Anderson) Allen, in Augusta County, Virginia, James Allen was a prosperous landowner who served as a Lt. Colonel in the War of 1812. On 5 September 1793 James Allen married Elizabeth Tate, daughter of Robert and Margaret (McClung) Tate in Augusta County, Virginia. They had six children who lived to adulthood: Peggy, John, William, Mary Tate, James Turner, and Sarah Belle.

In the early years of the century, James Allen suffered financial ruin from unwise investments. His oldest son, John Allen, born 17 May 1796, assumed the debts with little success. On a trip to Baltimore John learned of land grants in Michigan Territory. Subsequently he journeyed to Buffalo, New York, and then to Detroit, Michigan. Here he, with Elisha Rumsey, registered claims for 640 acres along the Huron River in Washtenaw County. They platted the 640 acres into the town of Ann Arbor. The town was named after their wives. They sold lots and the town was designated the county seat by Governor Cass.

On 24 October 1824, James and Elizabeth Allen with Ann Barry McCue Allen, John Allen's wife, and children arrived in Ann Arbor. James bought a lot at the corner of Huron and Second Street. On 7 July 1828, after contracting cholera, James died. Elizabeth died 15 July 1861 at the age of eighty-five.

William Allen, born 8 January 1798, the second son of James Allen, on 16 June 1819, married Caroline Poage, born 30 November 1799. William, with his nine children, migrated from Virginia to Daviess County, Missouri, after Caroline died.

Marion French Hanson is the great-granddaughter of William and Caroline Allen's ninth child, Isabelle Allen Miller, born 24 July 1835. Marion's grandmother, Idella Miller Cole, born 16 October 1856, and mother, Mable Cole French, born 26 July 1882 were both born in Daviess County, Missouri. Other descendants of James Allen are: Dr. Forrest "Phog" Allen, well known basketball coach at the University of Kansas; Harry K. Allen, Justice, Kansas Supreme Court; Frank S. Allen, WWII, Commander U.S. Navy Supply Corps.

JONATHAN ELLIS, WASHTENAW COUNTY PIONEER

Jonathan Ellis, born 27 July 1770 in Hebron, Tolland County, Connecticut, son of John and Elizabeth (Sawyer) Ellis, was the fifth in a family of ten children. He moved with his parents to Pittsfield, Berkshire County, Massachusetts some time before 1790. Jonathan married 8 January 1796 in Dalton, Berkshire County, Wealthy Lawrence, born 29 September 1778, daughter of Thomas and Abigail (Britton) Lawrence. Jonathan and Wealthy lived in Onondaga, Onondaga County, New York and Geneseo, Ontario (now Livingston) County, New York, where on 16 May 1825 Wealthy (Lawrence) Ellis died. Jonathan and Wealthy had eleven children. Jonathan married next Wealthy (Spalding) Satterlee, widow of Benedict Satterlee of Mt. Morris, Livingston County, New York. The family moved to Stafford, Genesee County, New York, before 1830. Jonathan was granted a land patent 20 June 1832 in York Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan, and by 1835 was listed on the Ypsilanti village tax roll as living on Washington Street. Jonathan died 16 March 1836 and Wealthy (Spalding) Satterlee Ellis died 28 April 1861.

Daniel Ellis, son of Jonathan and Wealthy (Lawrence) Ellis, was born in Onondaga, Onondaga County, New York on 3 May 1806. Daniel married Calista Ellsworth, born 10 May 1812, New York State on 18 March 1828, probably in Geneseo, Livingston County, New York. Calista's parents and birth place are unknown. By 1840 Daniel and Calista had settled in Saline Township, Washtenaw County, where five of their ten children were born. Daniel and Calista both died 18 March 1871 in Rawsonville, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

Myron H. Ellis, son of Daniel and Calista Ellis, born 27 November 1841 in Saline, Washtenaw County, was married to Lavina W. Burroughs 26 October 1864 in Ypsilanti, Michigan by G.P. Tindell, minister. Myron and Lavina resided in New Boston, Huron Township, Wayne County, Michigan, where Myron died 22 November 1906. Lavina died 23 January 1927 in Detroit, Michigan. Myron and Lavina had two children, William A. and Georgiana L. Ellis.

William A. Ellis, born 16 October 1865, married Carrie L. Goodwin, born 6 January 1865, daughter of Fairfield and Mary (Gordon) Goodwin, in Cassopolis, Cass County, Michigan, 31 December 1889. William died 10 November 1946 and Carrie died 27 May 1961. William and Carrie had one son, Don Goodwin Ellis.

Don Goodwin Ellis, born 14 November 1890 in Detroit, married Aileen Schneider, born 20 December 1890 in Detroit, daughter of William A. and Louise (Klein) Schneider. Don and Aileen had two sons, Don W. and John G., and four daughters, Shirley, Lois, Georgiana and Patricia. Don Goodwin Ellis died 21 June 1974 and Aileen (Schneider) Ellis died 30 December 1948.

Although many descendants of Jonathan and Wealthy (Lawrence) Ellis live in Michigan, some are living in other states, namely Arkansas, Florida, and Texas.

OBITUARY OF ELIZABETH CASTLE SUTHERLAND

The obituary below was found in a clipping from the Milan Leader, 10 April 1896, and was contributed by Lillian Eggert Brown. Col. Castle Sutherland, born in Dutchess County, New York, was a well known gunsmith in Ann Arbor at an early time. In 1837 he moved to Deerfield Township, Livingston County, Michigan, and then in the early 1850s returned to Ann Arbor where he died in 1863, aged 72. The naming of Ann Arbor, as reported below, is not accurate, as the plat was filed on 25 May 1824 in Detroit by Elisha Rumsey and John Allen as "Annarbour."

Elizabeth Castle Sutherland. The third of eleven children of Nancy Ann and Col. Castle Sutherland, was born in Geneva, N.Y., August 4, 1818 and died at Azalia [Monroe County], Michigan, March 16, 1896. She was married to Hiram T. Blackburn December 20, 1838 in Deerfield, Livingston County, Michigan. She was the mother of twelve children, five of whom survive her, Mary C., Hiram C., Sarah A., Alice L., and Melvin T. She also leaves a husband, two sisters, one brother and fourteen great grand-children.

Hers was an eventful life. At the age of eight years she met with an accident which disabled her, but being of a cheerful disposition she made all around her happy. She assisted her husband to make homes on four new farms, the latter in Azalia, where they have lived thirty-seven years and where on December 20, 1888, they celebrated their golden wedding.

Mrs. Blackburn has lived in Michigan since she was ten years old, as in May 1828, Col. Sutherland moved with his family from Geneva to a vast wilderness containing only thirty houses. Soon after their arrival in the town, from the beautiful wild grape arbors and in honor of five of the pioneers' wives, whose christian names were Ann (among whom was the mother of the deceased) was christened "Ann's Harbor," later "Ann Arbor."

For a few years the inhabitants suffered many privations, sometimes living for weeks on potatoes and salt; flour was $10.00 a barrel, and the settlers had to go with ox teams to Detroit, a distance of forty miles to get it. The Indians often passed through, four or five hundred, sometimes camping near the town. Men sat or slept with their guns in their hands. To her the Indians were a terror....

Her mind was strong, her memory good, and it was interesting to hear her rehearse the thrilling incidents of "Ye Olden Times".... We wish...to express...thanks (for all) kindness, sympathy and assistance during the sickness and death of our beloved wife and mother.

RECENT SOCIETY MEETINGS

By Dave Thayer

The Cemetery Committee conducted a reading of the Bridgewater Town Hall Cemetery on July 10, 1988.

There was no meeting in August. On September 25, 1988, Kathy Petlewski, librarian at the Plymouth Public Library, served as speaker. Her topic was "The Local Library - Your Partner in Genealogical Research." Nancy Goff presented a class on "Using Photographs in Genealogical Research."

On Sunday, October 23, Dr. Ronald Kapp spoke on "Genealogy - Your Place in History." Carolyn Griffin presented a class on "How to Prepare an Oral History."

The November/December meeting was held at the Glacier Hills Retirement Center. Members in attendance displayed Christmas ornaments which have been in their families for many years. Some spoke about family traditions. The refreshments contributed by members added to the festivities.

NEW ENGLAND CONFERENCE 1988

By Connie Olson

Over 750 people gathered in Boston late in August to pursue their New England heritage. They came from all over the country, including twenty-two from Michigan. The occasion was the 1988 Federation of Genealogical Societies' conference, "New England In Your Blood," with the New England Historic Genealogical Society as the local host. The Boston Park Plaza Hotel provided excellent facilities (with the exception of very slow elevators) for all the meetings and social events.

The main problem faced by an attendee was making choices. During the two and a half days of meetings there were seventeen hour-long lecture periods and each period offered at least five, and often six, subjects. The majority of the topics related in some way to New England research but there were also sessions dealing with subjects of more general interest, plus some sessions with information for professional genealogists, the operation of genealogical societies, and teaching genealogy. Most of the speakers were nationally recognized authorities, and in addition to the information they provided, the question and answer periods were often productive. Each participant was issued a binder containing the handouts for nearly all the lectures so it was possible to know the basic idea of most of the talks. Also, almost all of them were taped so one could buy tapes for those that couldn't be heard first-hand.

Although I attended only a small percentage of the 100 plus presentations, I detected a couple of themes emerging from them. One was the idea of giving less importance to straight surname research and placing more emphasis on broader research efforts. For instance, don't necessarily collect all the "Johnsons" you can find but look for collateral relatives and think of each person as part of a community. This is, of course, not a new approach, but the importance given to it seemed to be stronger than in the past. The other prominent theme - again not a new one - was the importance of original records. Although published and secondary sources are useful and significant, the value of original records cannot be matched for accuracy and authenticity.

The use of computers in genealogy was given a prominent place at this conference. In addition to a few sessions relating to the subject, there was a special room devoted to it. A variety of computers and genealogical programs were available for "hands-on" use and knowledgeable people were there for consultation and discussion. Specific presentations were given at scheduled times.

During their "spare" time people could visit the displays of about 50 vendors or do some research at the many repositories in the Boston area. The library of the NEHGS was within easy walking distance of the hotel and it accommodated the large number of researchers by issuing tickets for two-hour time blocks.

Other GSWC members attending were Carole and Don Callard. Carole is our representative to the Federation and serves as its recording secretary. She was honored with a plaque for the Library of Michigan citing its outstanding service to the genealogical community.
